For Reckless Driving.

On Saturday evening, while Mike Ducholke was motoring home from Edmonton he was run into by an east-bound auto, in front of Mr. J. Rivest's farm, on the Baseline. The matter was reported to Officer Smith, who proceeded to investigate, and later found the offending car in the ditch in front of Mr. Margon's farm. The occupants had been picked up and taken to Edmonton. On their return next morning to the scene of the last accident they were interviewed by Mr. Smith, with the result that Mr. H. J. Speer appeared in the local Court, Monday evening on a charge of reckless driving and was fined $5 and costs.

Gov't Elevator's Good Year

Terminating a very successful first year's work, the Dominion Government elevator at Edmonton is computed to have handled 2,350,000 bush of all grains. This is said by Edmonton grainmen to be a very satisfactory season's work for the inaugural year, and it is also safe to assume that a profitable year will be reported, as the March 31 financial estimate was made of the year's return of $100,000.

That the elevator has proved of immense value, to livestock men in Edmonton district by means of its weed-screening plant is shown by returns of 49,000 bu. of screenings which were disposed of locally. This has saved cattle feeders hundred of dollars by providing high-value feed at cheap prices and in freight charges, and to it may be attributed some of the rapid expansion of steer feeding in Edmonton district.

Union Ladies' Aid

Members of the Union Ladies' Aid Society met at the home of Mrs. L. Wight on Wednesday last. Mrs. Lundy, the secretary, after an absence of some two months, was welcomed back and the regular business proceeded with.

Many articles were turned in, ready for the bazaar sale, by the following ladies: Mesdames Lory, Wight, McCulla, Outway, Umbell, Smith, Brooks, Whelan, Clarke and Walton. There is still quite a number of garments to be finished by the next meeting.

The date of the annual bazaar sale was set for Saturday Nov. 28. Concluding business, a dainty lunch was served by Mrs. Wight and the meeting adjourned.

Ann's Family Album, under the auspices of the Women's Institute, Ducholke hall, Friday Oct. 23, at 8 o'clock. Adults 50c, school children 25c. Dance after, by Barth's orchestra; lunch served; gentleman $1, extra lady 25c.

There was an occurrence in an establishment on south Main street one evening last week which may probably be aired in an Edmonton court. A gent from the City entered the place and is said to have so conducted himself that the proprietor requested him to leave, and in the struggle which ensued the visiting gent was presented with a black eye.

At the local Court Saturday a farmer from Winterburn district appeared on a charge of non-payment of wages, laid by Pete Wagner. Defendant agreed to pay the money due $54.

The Liberal rally in Stony Saturday night was well attended. The meeting opened shortly after 8, with Mr. R. B. Brooks in the chair. The assembled voters were addressed by Messrs. Jas. Rielly, Mr. McLaughlin, J. T. J. Collison, and Mr. Bryan. The speeches were interspersed with some fine vocal selections rendered by a trio of singers from the City.

A Liberal rally in the interests of Hon. Chas. Stewart was held at Holborn school Tuesday night, and one at the Brightbank schoolhouse on last evening. Another meeting will be held in Spruce Grove tonight.

The West Leads the Way

Despite the fact that from press and platform in Eastern Canada sharp criticism, even abuse and misrepresentation, of Western men, organizations and policies continues to be voiced, and the West generally held up before the public gaze as utterly selfish, concerned solely with its own interests and regardless of the welfare of other portions of the Dominion and quite indifferent to the fate of Confederation itself, there is nevertheless discernible a clearer, more sensible view of the West by Eastern men and institutions who take the trouble to study the actual situation and get below the clouds of propaganda.

With such men there is a growing conviction that here in the West the people are seriously and successfully grappling with one of the greatest of all great Canadian problems today, namely, economy in public administration and consequent reduction in taxation. At the same time, while insistent upon their rights and urging the necessity for reforms and the adoption of certain policies, the people of the West are not whining but are hard at work seeking their own salvation and the permanent welfare and prosperity of Canada as a whole.

An illustration of this very welcome development is found in the concrete facts laid before the Investment Bankers' Association of Canada at their annual meeting in Montreal recently. The Association was informed that in the matter of municipal borrowings and expenditures Western Canada is setting an example which the East would do well to follow. In each year since 1920, Western municipal borrowings have declined, with the result that in the three years of 1922, 1923 and 1924 the total amount borrowed was ten million dollars less than in the one year of 1913.

On the other hand, Eastern municipalities borrowed sixteen million dollars more in 1924 than they did in 1913, while the aggregate of their borrowings in the last three years was $209,000,000, or nearly three and one-half times the figure for 1913, compared with a decrease of ten million dollars in the West.

But this is not all. Returns for 1925 show that while six out of seven of the large cities in the four Western provinces reduced their per capita expenditures, seven out of seven of the large cities in Ontario and Quebec increased their per capita expenditures.

Turning from the question of municipal to Provincial finance, this convention was informed that in 1924 three of the four Western Provinces had balanced budgets and showed surpluses, while in the East only Quebec showed a surplus, and Ontario's deficit was over eight million dollars.

Commenting on these figures and developments, the report to the Investment Bankers' Association in regard to the municipalities says: "The facts are significant. Such results in Western Canada, whether born of prudence or necessity, are setting an example which might well be followed in larger measure by many of our older and larger urban communities in Eastern Canada. And, dealing with Provincial finances, the report says: "That three of the four Western Provinces have succeeded in effecting this result (balanced budgets and surpluses) is evidence of a sound fiscal policy, which if continued and followed up by businesslike methods of debt amortization, must inevitably be recognized in a tangible way by underwriters and large investing institutions both at home and abroad."

Throughout the length and breadth of Canada there appears to be agreement that economy in public administration and reduction in taxation are imperative and essential to the welfare of the Dominion, and that until this is brought about, and definite action taken towards the liquidation of our heavy war debt, Canada cannot prosper as it should. If this is true, and no one is bold enough to question it, then the evidence shows that, despite all Eastern criticisms, it is the West that is making a real contribution to the stability of Confederation, and doing so by self-denial and hard work, while Eastern Provinces and municipalities go on piling up still larger debts, thereby further increasing taxation.

Under Providence, the West has this year added enormously to the wealth of Canada. As the result of the labors of our people the wheels of industry are being speeded up all over the Dominion, business is steadily improving, and, with railway rates, their net earnings are showing substantial increases. Present indications are that the Canadian National will this year make the best showing in its history.

If the propagandists of the East, instead of sneering at the West as self-centred, narrow and selfish, and accusing Western people with being reactionaries or annexationists, would impartially study the facts, and then co-operate with the West for the good of all, Canada would soon be on the high road of prosperity.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

PAUL WRITES TO THE CORINTHIANS

Golden Text: Now abideth faith, hope, love, these three; and the greatest of these is love. I. Corinthians 13:13.

Lesson: I. Corinthians 12:1 to 12:13. Devotional Reading: I. John 4:7-13.

The Text Explained and Illuminated
The Essentials of Love, verses 1-3.—Emotional gifts are valueless without love. Eloquence unalloyed by love means no more than so much noise, declares Paul in his words, "If I speak with the tongues of men and of angels, but have not love, I am become sounding brass, or a clanging cymbal." Paul's love for his readers leads him to speak of the possibility of his being without love rather than to accuse them of this lack—thus he illustrates the lesson he wishes to teach. The Greek word translated "tongues" means primarily "ecstatic utterances." The gift of tongues was an ecstasy of feeling by which men were carried away and broke into rapturous, inarticulate utterances. A modern musician has written songs without words; this is a very apt description of the peculiar kind of spiritual emotion called in the New Testament "speaking of tongues." Probably the nearest approach to it most Christians make is when they are carried away by the feeling of a revival. In meetings of this kind the revivifying work of God seemed to sustain their life; it was full, as they would have said, of the love of God, people speaking with tongues" (James Denney).

A LITTLE BOOKLET MOTHERS SHOULD HAVE

It Tells What a Mother Ought to Know for Baby's Sake

Above all, every mother wishes that her child, or children, whatever their age, may be bright, healthy, good-natured, boy boys and girls; clear eyed, clear skinned babies; good sleepers, bright wakers. Every mother wishes for her little folks that is that they may be well.

It is natural for little folks to be well. No wise mother thinks that her child at any age is in a natural state unless it is well and happy. No mother can expect, though, that the child will escape all the ills to which babyhood and childhood are subject, but she can do much to make the baby's battles for health easily won.

A valuable little booklet entitled "Care of Baby in Health and Sickness" has been prepared, and as it is something every mother should have, a copy will be sent free to any mother on request who will mention this paper by The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Soviets and Poles Friendly

Russia Anxious to Have Goodwill of Nearest Large Neighbor

In view of the prospect that Germany will negotiate a security pact with the allies and enter the League of Nations, Soviet Russia's relations with Poland, which in the past have been marked by lack of cordiality, and even acrimony, have lately assumed a strikingly friendly character.

This has been forcibly emphasized by the warmth of the reception accorded M. Tchitcherin, Russian foreign minister, at Warsaw. The Soviet press interprets his Warsaw reception as the beginning of a definite approachment between Poland and Russia.

Russian official circles profess to see in the proposed security pact a move on the part of the Western European powers to create a united front of all Europe against the Soviet union, and they appear anxious to have at least the friendship and goodwill of Russia's nearest large neighbor, Poland, to offset the bloc.

Scientists Working In Transvaal

Have Located Ancient Road 200 Miles In Length

Large lime deposits in Northern Transvaal have been found to be fossil bearing, and scientists are preparing to make an extensive search. Moreover, in the Transvaal, ancient mine workings have been located. The latter are believed to have been worked by plants who used copper chisels. A further interesting discovery has been made, likewise in the Transvaal, of an ancient road, 200 miles in length, running through the Woodbush country.

The Touring Automobile As A Means Of Unifying The Far-Flung Sections of Canada

How much is tourist development really worth to Canada?

There are two ways of looking at that question. The usual way is to view it through financial glasses. One needs only to glance at the figures cited by various authorities to realize that the money now spent in Canada every year by tourists from abroad has become one of the major items of our national income.

But there is another and perhaps equally important side of the question. Tourist development means a great deal more than the coming of an army of responding visitors. There is also the enormous increase in the actual travelling done within the Dominion by the Canadian people themselves.

The value of this feature is not to be measured in dollars and cents, but it bids fair to exert a powerful influence upon Canadian unity.

It has long been a byword that Canada is a "difficult country to govern." The territory of the Dominion is not only far flung, but it is naturally broken into sections which differ as widely as the economic increases in the north and south.

It is an actual fact, according to the natural resources intelligence service of the department of interior, which in paying particular attention to the tourist traffic in Canada, that the nine or ten million people of Canada own more passenger autos than any other nation on the face of the globe except the United States.

They own more passenger cars than the 49,000,000 people of Great Britain or the 49,000,000 of France. The people of Ontario alone possess as many cars as the combined population of nearly 80,000,000 living in Germany, Holland, Denmark, Norway and Sweden. Cars owned by the whole of the Danish people are just half the number of those owned by the people of Saskatchewan.

It will be a remarkable fact if, in a few years' time the touring of Canada within the boundaries of the Dominion does not succeed in sweeping away a great deal of the divergence of outlook as between various parts of the Dominion which in past years was the natural outcome of lack of acquaintance.

Looking After Reforestation

Britain Finds Time to Devote to Important Work

The forestry department began the work five years ago and has already set out 62,000 acres in trees. This season's work will cover 22,000 acres and bring the whole number of trees planted to two hundred million. The British Government is now beset with problems. A famine has there been a time when it has had more serious ones on hand. Yet it finds time and strength to devote to what is after all of more importance to British prosperity than some of the notably exploited issues of the present day, the setting out of millions of saplings to prevent the land from becoming treeless and desolate. Providence Journal.

Says Oyster Becoming Extinct

That the oyster is "going the same way as the buffalo and the elk," and within a year will be "an expensive luxury," is the opinion of W. F. Down, secretary of the Atlantic Fisheries Association. From 1912 to 1922, he said, the number of oysters taken from United States waters decreased from 25,000,000 to 17,000,000.

Develops New Potatoes

Tuber Originated at Raymond, Alberta, is of Superior Quality

"Early Queen" is the name given to a new potato originated by H. H. Kimball, truck gardener of Raymond, Alta. The tuber is of the oblong variety, combining earliness, fine flavor, cooks well and is of an excellent keeping quality.

Three years ago Mr. Kimball imported sufficient registered stock of West MacIntosh potatoes to seed three acres. To maintain purity of strain, the grower made application for government inspection. The professional man suggested that a number of hills of "mongrel stock" be uprooted. A strike was driven in the hills designated for destruction. When Mr. Kimball started to dig up the spuds he was surprised to note that the earth surrounding the "vase" was erect up until the tubers were showing and all indications pointed to a heavy yield. They were left until harvest, when the clean, white appearance so attracted the gardener that a test in a larger plot was made the following year. Not until mid-season was the extreme earliness of the "mongrel" discovered.

This year the white potatoes were planted side by side with the "Early King," a pink variety, known for its early ripening. The white potato beat the old favorite by 13 days. This new variety is now fetching $5 a hundred pounds for next year's seedling.

The Wheat Pool

Success of the Pool in Its First Year of Operation is Most Gratifying

The wheat pool has made a final payment which makes the basis of payment $1.66 a bushel, after deducting carrying charges in both country and terminal elevators. Three quarters of a million dollars has been set aside as a reserve and 85 elevators have been bought or built. The actual cost of operation for the year amounted to only a fraction over half a cent per bushel.

The triumphant success of the wheat pool in its first year is most gratifying not only to the farmers of Western Canada, but to the business men and the financial institutions of Eastern as well as Western Canada. Any economy in the handling of our main cash crop is a gain for the country as a whole, for the wheat crop of the west depends up or down on the wheels of industry in the east. Saskatchewan Farmer.

Canadian Bond Sales

Canadian bond sales since the beginning of the current year up to September 5, totalled $21,065,538, as compared with $508,661,297 in the corresponding period of 1924 and with $437,620,923 in 1923. So far this year of the total Canadian bond sales, $18,745,000 have been placed in the United States; $10,542,195 in Canada and $27,973,333 in Great Britain.

Hunting Big Game in the Kootenays

The picture was taken at Nelson, British Columbia, in the heart of the Kootenay district. The deer there are plentiful and the sportsmen who go there always come away, if not laden as shore, at least with a goodly supply of trophies to show and stirring stories to tell their friends.

The fall, of course, is the big open season. Thus it is that the out-of-door loving Canadian takes down his good old blunderbuss, hoists it over carefully, sign out the old magazine and oodles and the long boots, rushes for his game license and his trail for the tall timber as fast as his legs or his auto, or a Canadian Pullman train will carry him. Farther south, his American cousin goes through the same performance and also heads for the Canadian wild. And from England and Europe more ardent devotees of blunderbuss and sportsman's gear find their way through the Kootenays on their way home from the Orient to feast in quest of that record bag of deer around Nelson or the great big grizzly, mountain sheep or goat in the region.

Oh, yes, Canada is a sportsman's country.

League Of Nations Might Profitably Study Relationship Between Canada And U. S.

Seed Registration

In Western Provinces

Inspection Just Finished Shows Large Increase in Barley

A decrease in total acreage of registered seed inspected in the western provinces is counter-balanced this year by a considerable improvement in yield, according to the final returns from 14 inspectors who have completed the Canadian Seed Growers' Association field work for this year, working under the seed branch of the Dominion department of agriculture.

Inspections were made at 240 plots of 140 fields owned by 287 farmers, comprising 17,000 acres. The acreage is about 5 per cent under that inspected last year, but the total number of bushels is greater by 50,000.

A feature of the work this year, states J. E. Blackman, chief inspector for the Dominion seed branch, is the large increase in registered barley. There is no grain where purity as to variety is more important, since the malting value of barley depends greatly on this feature.

The varieties grown most largely were Hanschen, in Saskatchewan, which had four times its last year's acreage, and O. A. C. 21, which was sown on an acreage ten times greater than in 1924. There is a slight increase in registered wheat, also in Banner oats, Kets and Mindum are not on the registered list, but several inspections were made of these wheats, and Mindum may shortly be added to the eligible list.

Retain Name Of Marquis Wheat

Not Sufficient Difference To Warrant Introduction of New Names

A decision against giving new names to the various strains of Marquis wheat eligible for registration under the rules of the Canadian Seed Growers' Association was reached at a meeting of the Saskatchewan provincial seed board.

The board discussed a resolution recently adopted by the executive of the Canadian Seed Growers' Association in consultation with L. H. Newman, Dominion controller, and came to the conclusion that there was not sufficient difference between the strains of Marquis wheat to warrant the introduction of new names, which would only be confusing to growers. They favor the retention of the numbers used at present to designate the various strains.

An analytical study of the various strains of Marquis wheat was presented to the provincial board meeting by S. O. Booth, of the provincial field crops branch.

The governments represented in the League of Nations are reported from Geneva to be studying the recent extradition treaty between Canada and the United States, covering offenders against the laws concerning opium and other dangerous drugs, with a view to the conclusion of similar treaties among them. A recommendation to this effect recently was approved by the league council on recommendation of its permanent organ council.

The wisdom of good example, not always to last, nor often, for it is to be hoped; eventually good example must invite to compensatory emulation among nations, as among individuals.

The council and the league probably might go further in studying the relationship existing between the United States and Canada. Their comrades association illustrates a remarkable situation in international relations, and this situation has endured for more than a century; there appears to be no reason to doubt that it will continue to endure for centuries to come.

Canada and the United States have demonstrated to the world the wisdom of justice, confidence, reason and faith as applied to international association. The result is that each nation is developing as no other nation ever developed in the past. Canada and the United States are engaged in a supreme international partnership—partnership in which are incorporated higher and more important values than material interests. In any grave crisis menacing the interests of either, it is rather certain that the two nations will be found ready to meet the issue by spontaneous and unstinted support.

Just the other day, in majestic Stanley Park, Vancouver, was dedicated a stately and impressive monument by Elwood Johnston, through the efforts of its members in Canada and the United States. In a cleared space under mighty forest trees stands this International Good-Will memorial. It represents Canada and the United States facing all the future, hand in hand. It is the only emblem of fortitude; outside of mile posts, to outline the inevitable demarcation of the thousands of miles of border line separating the two countries from the Atlantic to the Pacific.

Let the League of Nations and its council ponder this spectacle that so gloriously exemplifies the feasibility of international fraternity and peace! Cincinnati Enquirer.

The Best Pay Best

Good Quality of Cattle Always in Demand When Marketing

An ancient story is told in the last monthly review of livestock conditions by the market intelligence division of the livestock branch of Ottawa, but it is a story that cannot too strongly be impressed upon the breeders and sellers. Good quality cattle, the review says, were always in demand and enjoyed a good outlet at fairly strong prices, but medium and common grades, which made up a large percentage of the offerings, were rather hard to sell and at most markets closed at lower prices. Good quality feeders were in demand but other sorts were slow to sell. A similar story is told of all classes of livestock. Select bacon hogs ran in price three to four dollars over what they brought in the month of August last year. They also showed an increase in numbers in Montreal and the west.

Nurse Crop For Sweet Clover

Tests Show Winter Killing Less Likely To Occur

Tests at the Manitoba experimental farm emphasize the fact that sweet clover is much more economically produced when sown with a nurse crop than when sown alone. The yields of the various nurse crops are in no way reduced due to the presence of the sweet clover and the slightly increased yield the following season in favor of seedling alone is insignificant. The stable also affords considerable protection and hence winter killing is less likely to occur.

BAREE, SON OF KAZAN

James Oliver Curwood
A LOVE EPIC OF THE FAR NORTH

Copyright, 1917, by Doubleday, Page & Co.
"BAREE, SON OF KAZAN," a Nitegraph Picture, With Wolf, the War Dog, is an Adaptation of This Story

SYNOPSIS

Pierrot, the trapper, received word that McGargat, the factor, would arrive at Pierrot's cabin the next day to demand the hand of his daughter, Nepeese. "He is a beast—a man-devil," Pierrot warned Nepeese. Baree, the wolf-dog, hunting near McGargat's camp, was caught in one of the game snares laid by the factor. McGargat, finding him lying trussed up like an Indian papoose, cried, "You little devil! I ought to beat your brains out—and I believe I will!"

The attack fell. It fell again and again, and when McGargat was done, Baree lay half stunned, his eyes partly closed by the blows, and his mouth bleeding.

"That's the way to take the devil out of a wild dog," snarled McGargat. "I guess you won't try the biting game again, eh, youngster? A thousand devils—but you went almost to the bone of this hand!"

He began washing the wound again. Baree's teeth had sunk deep, and there was a troubled look in the factor's face. It was July—had month for bites. From his kit he got a small flask of whiskey and turned a bit of the raw liquor on the wound, cursing Baree as it burned into his flesh.

Baree's half-shut eyes were fixed on him steadily. He knew the factor had been met the deadliest of all his enemies. And yet he was not afraid. The club in Bush McGargat's hand had not killed his spirit. It had killed his fear. It had roused in him a hatred such as he had never known—not even when he was fighting Ooloomsaw, the outlaw wolf. The vengeful animosity of the wolf was burning in him now, along with the savage courage of the dog. He did not flinch when McGargat approached him again. McGargat made an effort to raise himself, that he might spring at this man-monster. In the effort, swaddled up as he was in the blanket, he rolled over in a helpless and ludicrous heap.

They began to journey before the sun was up, for if Baree's blood was almost dead within him, Bush McGargat was not.

Relieved by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Mitchell, Ontario.—"I have taken your medicine for a number of years. I do not take it steady all the time, but I am never without it. I always keep it in the house. I took it first for pains in the abdomen and bearing-down pains, headaches and pains across the back. I have my home to look after and many a day I could not get up at all. I saw the advertisement in the paper about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and Mrs. John Miller told me about it, too. Every time I take it, it makes me feel better and I always recommend it to my friends. I am willing to answer letters from women asking about this medicine and you may use this letter as a testimonial."—Mrs. F. J. Wassenaar, Mitchell, Ont.

The merit of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is told by women to each other. Many women know by experience what this medicine will do, and they are anxious for others to know. Such testimony should cause any woman suffering from the troubles so common to her sex to give this well-known medicine a fair trial.

Do you know that in a recent canvass among women users of the Vegetable Compound over 250,000 replies were received. To the question, "Have you received benefit by taking this medicine?" 98 per cent. replied "Yes."

This means that 98 out of every 100 women are in better health because they have given this medicine a fair trial.

Impressed With the West

Editors of United States agricultural papers, representing 11,000,000 circulation, were deeply impressed with what they saw during their recent tour of the prairies. "We have no wheat land in Illinois the equal to this," said P. A. Potter, editor of the Orange Judd Farmer, of Chicago. "We dare not go back and tell the whole truth of what we have seen in Western Canada or we would lose half of our farming population."

did not look at McGargat's red face, blazing in his joy and exultation.

"It is Baree!" she cried.

She took the bundle from McGargat and turned to Pierrot.

"Tell him that Baree belongs to me," she said.

On the floor of the cabin Nepeese dropped on her knees and flung up her wrapping blanket. She was not afraid of Baree. And then, as Baree rolled in a limp heap on the floor, she saw his half-closed eyes and the dry blood on his jaws, and the light left her face as swiftly as the sun is shadowed by a cloud.

"Baree," she cried softly. "Baree—Baree!"

She partly lifted him in her two hands. Baree's head sagged. His body was numb until he was powerless to move. His legs were without feeling. He could scarcely see. But he heard her voice! It was the same voice that had come to him that day he had felt the sting of the bullet, the voice that had pleaded with him under the moon!

The voice of the Willow thrilled Baree. It seemed to stir the sluggish blood in his veins, and he opened his eyes wider and saw again the wonderful stars that had glowed at him so softly the day of Wakanyo's death. One of the Willow's long braids fell over her shoulder, and he smelled again the sweet scent of her hair as her hand caressed him and her voice talked to him. Then she got up suddenly and left him, and he did not move while he waited for her. In a moment she was back with a basin of water and a cloth. Gently she washed the blood from his eyes and mouth. He scarcely breathed. But Nepeese saw the little quiver that shot through his body when her hand touched him, like electric shocks.

"He beat you with a club," she was saying, her dark eyes within a foot of Baree's. "He beat you! That man-beast!"

There came an interruption. The door opened, and the man-beast stood looking down on them, a grin on his red face. Instantly Baree showed that he was alive. He sprang back under the Willow's hand with a sudden snarl and fished McGargat. The hair of his spine stood up like a brush; his fangs gleamed menacingly, and his eyes burned like living coals.

"There is a devil in him," said McGargat. "He is wild-born of the wolf. You must be careful or he will take of a hand, as Nakshahet! It was the first time he had called her by her name. In Cree—sweetheart! Her heart pounded. She bent her head for a moment over her clenched hands, and McGargat—looking down on what he thought her confusion—laid his hand caressingly on her hair. From the door Pierrot had heard the word, and now he saw the enigma, and he raised a hand as if to shut out the sight of a sacrilege.

"Mon Dieu!" he breathed.

In the next instant he had given a sharp cry of wonder that mingled with a sudden yell of pain from McGargat. Like a flash Baree had darted across the floor and fastened his teeth in the factor's leg. They had bitten deep before McGargat freed himself with a powerful kick. With an oath he snatched his revolver from his holster. The Willow was ahead of him. With a little cry she darted to Baree and caught him in her arms.

arms. As she looked up at McGargat, her soft, bare throat was within a few inches of Baree's naked girth. Her eyes blazed.

"You beat him!" she cried. "He hates you—hates you—"

"Let him go!" called Pierrot in an agony of fear.

"Mon Dieu! I say let him go, or he will tear the life from you!"

"He hates you—hates you—hates you—"

The Willow was repeating over and over again into McGargat's startled face. Then suddenly to her father, "So, he will not tear the life from me," she cried. "See! It is Baree. Did I not tell you that? It is Baree! Is it not proof that he defended me—"

"From him!" gasped McGargat, his face darkening.

Pierrot advanced and laid a hand on McGargat's arm. He was smiling.

WOMEN'S HANDICAPS

Headaches and Backaches Often Make Life Miserable

A woman's health handicaps her almost always. She has pains and disabilities which do not afflict men. Nature does not give her a fair chance. Her blood is more often thin and poor than a man's, and she often neglects the first beginnings of ill-health. Many women who seemed destined to a life of freedom and joy have been freed entirely from their suffering through the wonderful blood-making qualities of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. Many a woman tells all with a pain in her back and side, a burning headache, and a sense of having no spine left.

What a pity women will not listen to their friends whom Dr. Williams' Pink Pills have saved from their misery. Whenever a woman suffers they will help her—in youth, middle-age and after—Mrs. John Mitchell, of Middleville, Ont., gives her experience for the benefit of other women sufferers. She says: "Some years ago I was so badly run down I could hardly walk around the house. I tried to do a few chores but was able to do very little. My boys and husband had to do the rest. If I started up stairs I had to go very slow or I would fall. I was just played out. My head ached terribly, and my heart would beat violently. In this deplorable condition I began taking Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. When I had finished six boxes I felt much better. Then I got a further supply, and by the time I had taken these I could walk around the house without exhausting, the headaches had disappeared and I am now perfectly well. Any woman who is run down should not hesitate to begin Dr. Williams' Pink Pills at once, as I am sure from my own experience they will build her up."

You can get these Pills from any medicine dealer or by mail at 50 cts. a box from Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Sleep is the great nourisher of infants, and without peaceful sleep the child will not thrive. This cannot be if the infant be troubled with worms. Miller's Worm Powders will destroy worms and drive them from the system, and afterwards the child's rest will be undisturbed. The powders cannot injure the most delicate baby, and there is nothing so effective for restoring the health of a worm-infant.

Clams Menace To Divers

Deep-sea divers in Cuba are learning to fear the giant clams in the water. The monstrous bivalves lie half open on the bottom of the sea, and should a diver step into them, the shells snap shut, holding the diver fast.

Good-bye Asthma. Persons suffering from that extremely trying trouble known as asthma know what it is to long with all their hearts for escape as from a tyrant. Never do they know what an asthma may come, and they know that to struggle unaided is vain. With Dr. J. D. Kellogg's Asthma Remedy at hand, however, they can say good-bye to their misery and enjoy life again. It helps at once.

GERMANY WANTS TO INSURE PEACE FOR THE FUTURE

Locarno, Switzerland.—Not only peace now, but peace for all time is Germany's desire. The German chancellor, Dr. Rathenau, as informed M. Briand, the French foreign minister, in a private consultation of the two statesmen, which stands out conspicuously as the biggest single event since the opening of the security conference.

The two leaders stood quietly away from Locarno and, meeting at a secluded spot on the shore of Lake Maggiore, had a frank talk on European problems as a whole, and especially how best to consolidate the peace of Europe.

This meeting of conciliation, marked by an expression of the determination of both statesmen to do everything humanly possible to banish the Franco-German war spectre, has injected a new ray of optimism into the political atmosphere, despite the fact that it did not result in the fashioning of a formula whereby France can guarantee, in a special way, the territorial integrity of Poland and Czechoslovakia, her allies.

That problem will require a consultation of the cabinets at Paris and Berlin, for France and Germany will find it difficult yielding from their original positions without the support of their home governments and home parliaments.

Urges Commercial Air Development

Air Force Aiding Canadian Industry Says Commander Scott

Ottawa.—The Royal Canadian Air Force and its development along the lines of civil aviation, was the theme of an address before the Ottawa branch of the Engineering Institute of Canada by Commander Capt. J. Stanley Scott, M.C., A.F.C., D.C. He said it was the particular function of the force to develop the air power of Canada by the spread of commercial aviation and the cultivation of a sound ultimate air power.

Among the industries that have been considerably helped by the air force in Canada is the salmon fishing industry on the Pacific coast, he said. The salmon patrol for the suppression of illegal fishing and see that no improper or unlawful practices are employed. The officers flying in this service are all experts in as fishery inspectors. Wireless communication is maintained from the aircraft to the stations.

Prosperity In Britain

Daily Mail Discovers Two Centres Where Trade Is Particularly Good

London.—In these times when so much doleful news with regard to the state of British industry is appearing in the newspapers, it is refreshing to find that The Daily Mail has discovered at least two prosperous centres in the country, Coventry and Leicester. Coventry is described by The Mail as the busiest place in the United Kingdom. The motor car factories there are working at the highest pressure, and The Mail attributes this happy state of affairs largely to the re-imposition of the McKeena duties. In Leicester the woollen and hosiery trades are said to be showing such improvement that but for the Australian tariff the town would be one of the most prosperous in the whole country.

The factories are working overtime and the export trade is also prosperous.

Rumors Are Denied

Saskatchewan Co-operative Elevator Co. Refute Stories of Loss

Regina, Jan. 25.—In view of rumors alleged to have originated in Winnipeg, that the Saskatchewan Co-operative Elevator Company sustained a heavy loss in handling last year's crop, the following statement was authorized by the company.

The policy of the Saskatchewan Co-operative Elevator Company is to make its financial statement public at the annual meeting of shareholders which will be held December 16 in Regina. The statement of the company's operations for the financial year 1924-25 will be going forward to all shareholders within the course of a few days however. The fact that a dividend of eight per cent. for the financial year 1924-25 which ended July 31 last, was declared and paid in August last amounting to approximately $190,000, is a very clear indication that the company's operations last year were on a very successful basis.

Ready To Reduce Armaments

Britain and Japan Willing to Join In Action

Washington.—While the Inter-Parliamentary Union resolved to sponsor movements for world disarmament and protection of troublesome national border lands, spokesmen from the British and Japanese groups declared their government were ready to join with others in a concerted action for further reduction of armaments.

The resolution on armaments reduction, reported by Dr. P. March, of Denmark, expressed regret that expenditures for armaments by "most countries" showed a "serious increase," stated the necessity of giving nations a feeling of security, and called for a thorough examination by a special sub-committee of methods for reducing armaments, including the drafting of a technical scheme to bring this about. It was adopted without dissent.

Baseball Idol Passes

Christy Mathewson Dies As Result Of War Injuries

Saratoga Lake, N.Y.—Christy Mathewson died. Baseball's "Big Six" lost his fight against tuberculosis just as the game's great climax, the world series, in which he played an all-important part in 1916, had gotten underway in Pittsburgh.

More than five years ago, the great pitcher, loved and honored wherever the game is played, began what was to be a losing struggle.

Gassed in the World War in France, where he served with distinction, Mathewson returned from overseas to coach with the Giants, the club with whom he won his fame, but the illness which was finally to take his life, forced him to retire for recuperation in 1920.

Arrests Ensure Peace

CRITICIZES OUR CONTRIBUTION TO IMPERIAL NAVY

London.—Truth, the weekly paper which occupies its columns upon the paucity of Canada's contribution to the British navy, again returns to the subject of the Canadian naval contribution.

Truth suggests that the people of Canada might find something to think about in Premier Coates' reply to a deputation from the New Zealand Navy League, which waited upon him recently and urged the government to contribute a third battle cruiser to the British navy.

Premier Coates reminded the deputation that New Zealand's per capita contribution to the Imperial navy defence had increased this year from eight to ten shillings, according to a Wellington dispatch to a London daily, and that, personally, he thought a steady development like this was better than precipitate action such as the Navy League urged.

Truth states that New Zealand's contribution to the Imperial navy next year would be nine shillings per head. It quotes the New Zealand as saying: "It is our job to do all that we can to keep the renewal of cruisers up to date."

The seaborne trade of Canada, Truth says, is very much greater than that of New Zealand, and Canada's western shores look out on the Pacific. Two lent destroyers are not much of a contribution to the navy of the empire, the paper adds.

How To Save

Interesting Booklet on Yearly Purchase Plan an Aid to Small Investors

An interesting and valuable little booklet is published by Hurst & Co., investment bankers of Montreal, setting out an excellent plan whereby the public of Canada may buy good securities and pay for them over a period of one year. The object is to cultivate the habit of saving money among people who have never been accustomed to buying securities, and to show them how profitable it will be for them to invest their savings in this way and spread the payments over a year.

Good securities can be bought on this plan, with all the opportunities of taking advantage of market variations, and yet the investor has an entire year in which to pay off the balance due on his account. Under this plan the investor pays 25 per cent. of the purchase price on placing the order, and the balance, including the customary interest, in eleven equal monthly instalments. The book outlining this plan can be obtained upon application to the company at its Montreal office, Canada Cement Building, Phillips Square.

A Move For Peace

Gods of War Receive Rebuffs At Inter-parliamentary Meeting

Washington.—The gods of war are receiving telling rebuffs. World parliamentary leaders here approved unarmoured frontier zones, and unanimously by called on the United States once more to summon the world to the peace table.

The demilitarizing zone plan was offered to the Inter-parliamentary Union by the British, with notable unanimity among the 41 nations gathered. The union not only subscribed to the plans for universal peace, but heard delegates of Japan and Great Britain urge the United States to take the initiative. First of the nations to call for cessation of strife was Japan, France, Great Britain and Germany quickly approved.

Great Britain, through R. S. Hudson, declared his willingness to "join with any great power in any conference for the further limitation of naval armaments or for the reduction of land armaments."

WILL STIMULATE CATTLE EXPORTS TO GREAT BRITAIN

Saskatoon.—To stimulate the export to Great Britain of Canadian cattle by providing transportation facilities designed to permit of the exportation of cattle in large lots, the federal department of agriculture has secured the verbal consent of the British board of trade and ministry of agriculture to the admission to Great Britain of cattle shipped in lots of 1,000 instead of the present shipload limit of 500. Hon. W. R. Motherwell, minister of agriculture, announced here this morning.

Mr. Motherwell was in receipt of a cable from W. A. Wilson, former dairy commissioner for Saskatchewan, and now Canada's agricultural products representative in Great Britain announcing the agreement.

The agreement has been completed following a conference held on September 21 between the British ministry of agriculture and the Dominion department represented by Mr. Wilson and Dr. Barker. A few days later a second conference was held at which representatives of the marine department, shipowners and cattle men were also present," said Mr. Motherwell.

Until the present ever since the British embargo was removed from Canadian cattle, the shipped limit has been 500 head of cattle. Since the embargo was removed the exportation of Canadian cattle has increased to the point where it has become necessary to provide transportation facilities better adapted to the volume of exportation.

The minister of agriculture also felt assured that with the provision for additional exportation facilities cattle exportation should retain an decided impetus. In opening negotiations for the objective now reached he had done so at the request of Canadian cattle exporters.

Probing Tangle In Europe

Committee of Interparliamentary Union Will Investigate Economic Barriers

Washington.—The Interparliamentary Union conference, in final session here, adopted a resolution calling for an investigation of economic barriers between European nations, with a view to their ultimate extinction.

The resolution, which was adopted without objection, was introduced by H. J. Procope, of Finland, as a substitute for one presented by Adolf Braun, of Germany, recommending the creation of a distinct understanding between European nations.

The Procope resolution directs a sub-committee of the conference committee on economic and financial questions to study the problem and report to the next conference.

Quality

The most urgent requirement in Canada's Agricultural Products

CANADA produces every year large quantities of wheat, oats, barley, butter, cheese, bacon, beef, eggs, apples, potatoes, grass seed and clover seed that she cannot consume. Her natural outlet for these products is, of course, Great Britain—the one great consuming country of the world with an open market.

Unfortunately, nearly every other country with any surplus of food products seems to want to send its surplus to this same market.

The keenness of the competition on this, our only market, and the energy and resourcefulness of our competitors began to impress themselves upon the Department of Agriculture some time ago, but it is only within very recent years that the real and only way to grapple with this problem has been discovered, or at least put into effect. This Department now believes, as do also most of the farmers of this country, that the "grading" of our agricultural products is the policy and practice that is saving us through the struggle and will assure us of our rightful place on the British market.

"Grading" means the classifying of products, whether they be hogs, butter, cheese, eggs or anything else, into what might be called in a general way "BEST", "GOOD", "FAIR" and "POOR" classes.

These exact words are not used in describing the grades, but that is what is meant. The purpose served in grading is threefold—

(1) Educational. When the producer sees the relative quality of his product he is spurred on to maintain that quality if it is the "best" or to improve the quality where necessary.

(2) Fair Play. When products are not graded the inferior article for various reasons often brings as much as the superior article, and the credit and advantage of putting the superior product on the market is lost to the one who really deserves it.

(3) Facilitating Trade. The dealer learns to have confidence in the article he is buying and buys more freely, because it is guaranteed by grading, and gradually everybody gets to know what the "best" article really looks like or tastes like. In short, grading brings about standardization and ensures to the producer the best price.

Canada now grades her cereals, grass seeds, hay, potatoes, apples, eggs, butter, cheese, wool and bacon hogs. The results have been in every case beneficial and in some cases quite markedly so, even though the grading system has been in effect in some cases for only two or three years, thus—

Cheese—Grading began April 1st, 1923. Canadian cheese the year before had fallen into such disfavour on the British market that New Zealand cheese was quite commonly preferred. Today Canadian cheese commands cents per pound higher than New Zealand.

Butter—Grading began same time as for cheese. The reputation of our butter was then indeed at low ebb. Canadian butter today, while not the best on the market, is rapidly improving in quality and gaining in reputation.

Hogs—Over two years ago the Department of Agriculture began to grade live hogs at the packing houses and stock yards. The 10% premium paid by the packers for "better" bacon hogs as against "tick smooth" is chased by department graders has done wonders to improve the quality of our hogs and develop the bacon industry.

Best Canadian bacon, which ordinarily was quoted two years ago from 18 to 18 shillings a long hundredweight below Danish, has gradually grown in the estimation of the British wholesale buyer until it is now quoted at only from 1 or less to at most 5 or 6 shillings per long hundredweight below the best Danish.

This improvement in price is, of course, due to quality and has come about very gradually, the spread narrowing down by a shilling or two a month until now it is not at all a rare occurrence to see best Canadian selling at a par with the Danish article.

Eggs—Canada was the first country to grade and standardize eggs. These grades and standards apply not only to exports, interprovincial and import shipments, but also to domestic trading.

The basis is interior quality, cleanliness and weight.

Standardizing Canadian eggs has established confidence between producer and consumer and between exporter and British importer, and has resulted in a greatly-increased demand for the Canadian egg both at home and abroad.

Other products might be mentioned where grading has worked to the great advantage of the producer and to the advancement of Canadian agriculture.

Already Great Britain recognizes our store cattle, wheat, cheese, eggs, apples and oats as the best she can buy.

It is for us to so improve our other products, particularly our butter and bacon, as to bring them also into this list of "the best on the British market" and consequently the highest priced.

Grading enabled us to do this for cheese, wheat, eggs and apples.

Grading is helping us to do it for butter and bacon.

Quality Counts
Quality is thus the first objective for the Canadian producer, and the first rule of the supply. It is along these lines the Department of Agriculture is working for educational campaigns, and the results of this policy is seen in the growing confidence of a British agricultural expert. Look at these figures—

A despatch from London states that in the past three weeks more than 20,000 boxes of Quebec-made cheese have arrived and been sold in London at good prices, the quality, it is said, being of the best. It is pointed out that if Quebec products are to obtain the position they deserve here, it is necessary to keep continuous supplies coming in order to make them known to the general public; rather than to make either isolated or occasional speculative shipments. Along this line, some 7,000 boxes of Quebec-made cheese went forward from here to the Lon-
